14% Drop Forecast in '62 Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (A) The 1962 wheat crop was forecast yesterday by the Agriculture Department at 1,057,670,000 bushels — 14% below last year and 6% below the average of the past ten years.

The expected reduction in this year's crop is due in part to the wheat stabilization program under which farmers are required to cut back wheat acreage by at least 10%. The program was not in effect for 1961. A 1 2 1962

The installation permits both the top and bottom sashes to "fold" into the room and both can be tilted to any position to allow desired ventilation, yet eliminate drafts. Rain and other elements also are kept out of the house while the window is open.

The window kit affords modernization and weather stripping of old windows for less than 25 per cent of the cost of ordinary window replacements, the manufacturer reports.
